Second Circular

Dear Colleagues,

the preparations for the 35th Symposium for Theoretical Chemistry proceed smoothly. Scientists from 10 European and 5 non-European countries are interested to participate. This circular provides you with further details concerning the program, accomodation and registration. A preliminary schedule for the conference is available on the www-pages of the conference, i.e., http://www.mpipks-dresden.mpg.de/~stc99.

Invited Lectures: We plan to have 12 invited lectures. The total time for a lecture is 45 minutes. The speakers are asked to leave at least 5 minutes for discussion. A list of speakers and their tentative titles is available on the www-pages of the conference. The invited lecturers are asked to send an abstract of their talk (title, author, address, text) fitting on one DIN A4 page with sufficiently wide margins, i.e., at most 16 cm wide and 24 cm high.

Contributed Lectures: We plan to have 18 contributed lectures. The total time for a lecture is 30 minutes. The speakers are asked to leave at least 5 minutes for discussion. The number of applications for contributed lectures by far exceeds the available time frame. A final selection of contributed lectures will be made during the first two weeks of July on the basis of the applications which reach us until the deadline June 30, 1999. Contributions which are not selected as a lecture will be considered as a poster.

The selection of contributed lectures is certainly a difficult task and may easily cause disappointment among those who are not selected. In order to have a balanced program and as little as possible overlap with the 1998 symposium in Gwatt, we decided a) to give higher preference to those applicants who did not have an invited or contributed lecture in Gwatt and b) to ask all applicants from groups of researchers working on a joint project to present just one lecture.

Posters: Each participant is entitled to apply for one poster. The posters may be 120 cm wide and 150 cm high. We will try to have all posters exhibited during the whole conference. There will be two poster sessions (Monday and Wednesday evening).

Abstracts for Lectures and Posters: All applicants for contributed lectures and posters have to provide an abstract. The structure should be the following:

title
authors
address

The whole abstract should be (at most) 16 cm wide and 12 cm high, i.e., fit on half of a DIN A4 page leaving sufficiently broad margins.

Conference Fee: The conference fee is 40.– DM for students and 80.– DM for all other participants.

Accommodation: The accomodation of the conference participants will be organized by the Tourist Office of the city of Freiberg. Single and double rooms of different quality and rates have been prereserved for the conference until the beginning of July. Please return the signed registration form indicating your choice/preference for accomodation until the deadline June 30, 1999. We cannot guarantee accomodation in Freiberg for applications which arrive after this deadline. Please do not transfer money for your accomodation in advance, i.e., all payments should be directly to your hotel or guest house when you check out after the conference.

Meals and Coffee Breaks: Meals and the coffee breaks during the conference will be taken care of by the Mensa of the TU Bergakademie Freiberg. The estimated cost is 150.– DM per participant.

Excursion: We plan to have an excursion to the city of Meißen at the Elbe river. The excursion will include bus transfer, guided tours (englisch or german) to the porcelain factory and the city as well as a dinner. The estimated cost is 50.– DM per participant.

Payment: Payments (conference fee (mandatory), meals and coffee break (if desired), and excursion (if desired)) have to be made to the following account of the Max-Planck-Institut für Physik komplexer Systeme, Dresden:
